

1 Delegate Penniman both refer to rules adopted by the Style
2 and Drafting Committee. These rules were not made in hea-
3 ven; they were designed to serve our convenience. I suggest
4 that at this time the work of the Style and Drafting Com-
5 mittee in this small manner, violating one of its rules, 6 more accurately reflects the intention of this body than 7 the amendment presently before us.

8 I suggest that the only other way of preserving 9 the rules and also getting the intention of this body, as 10 indicated by Delegate Boyer just now, would be to repeat
11 also the last sentence of 10.02.

12 This amendment does not repeat it, and under 13 the circumstances we would be left with a situation where-
14 by an amendment coming out of a Constitutional Convention 15 has an effective date provision written into it by the 16 Constitution, while the Constitution coming out of the 17 Constitutional Convention does not.

18 I suggest we will have more difficulties, rather 19 than fewer, if we adopt the amendment.
